

MEDTECH HUB IN BERN ON THE WAY TO GREAT SUCCESS

Quotes • 06.11.23

The development of the CSEM's Medtech department in Bern is an additional milestone for our economic and medical location. The canton of Bern already has strong stakeholders who complement each other well. The skills of Bern University, Inselspital, sitem-insel, and the Swiss Center for Design and Health will be expanded by the new CSEM department. I am looking forward to yet more new products, health solutions and value creation within the largest university hospital and largest medical faculty in Switzerland.

Christoph Ammann

Councillor • Head of the Department of the Economy, Energy, and Environment • Canton of Bern

The physically close collaboration between science, medicine and industry on the Insel Campus is unparalleled. The projects already carried out at our translation center exemplify the power of innovation in this close collaboration – we want this to intensify in the future.

Dr. med. h.c. Uwe E. Jocham

President • Insel Gruppe

CSEM's extensive experience in micro-technology and micro-electronics complements the activities of the university's strategic research centers and clinical research, and significantly strengthens innovation potential in the medtech industry at the Bern location.

Prof. Dr. Christian Leumann

Rector • University of Bern

Increasing life expectancies, demographic changes and chronic illnesses pose big challenges for the healthcare sector. We are confident that technology is part of the solution and that we can find appropriate ways forward if we work together. We are therefore highly motivated that together we can make a real difference in Bern.

Dr. Alexandre Pauchard

CEO • CSEM

Our origins lie in monitoring the vital signs of astronauts. Today, CSEM is an important global presence in the development of what are known as "wearables" thanks to more than 20 years of experience. Our core skills are in miniaturization, integrated design and minimal energy use. In Bern, we see a lot of potential for our expertise in prototyping.

Jens Krauss

VP Systems • CSEM
